USER MANUEL FOR NL CHOCOLATE COMPANY PROGRAM

A fun and exciting way to process your employee travel claims!☺

Created by: Devin Augot & Jacob Thomas (Group22B-2)

Table of Contents

Introduction

Our Program is designed to be a user-friendly menu system that allows you process travel claims, graph monthly sales, input and store your all your employee's information such as first and last names, start dates, birthdays, and even generates a company ID for new employees. Also, just for fun we threw in a little interview question for option 2 in the user menu so you could have a little insight into how we operate, think and interview as software developers.

Dear Customer, we would like to thank you for the purchase of our product, its people like you who help us grow and prosper ♥. We have dedicated ourselves to providing you with a top of line application that allows your company to process your employees travel claims and to have a little fun along the way. Our Hope is that you enjoy using this application as much as we enjoyed making it. From our team to yours we all want to say thank you!

~ Maverick Company ltd.~

User interface

- Once the program is open you will be greeted with a carefully crafted main menu numbered 1 to 5 that will allow you easily choose what task you are trying to complete.

- From there you will be prompted to simply press a number between 1 to 5, then you will be transitioned to a screen for that menu option.

- From all options you will be either prompted to hit any key or your met with a Yes or No prompt which you simply enter Y for yes and N for no to return you to the main menu.
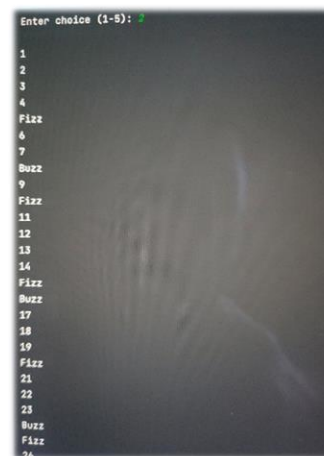

Main menu

1. Option 1 will allow you to enter an employee travel claims with clear and easy to follow instructions in each step.

2. Option 2 is just a fun little insight into the mind of programmer with the type of programs we ask them to build during an interview, and after that bit of fun just hit any key to continue back to the main menu.

Main Menu Contin.

5. And finally, option 5 just simply allows you to quit from the program.

3. Option 3 will allow you enter all your employee's personal information and will even print out a unique company ID number from the information entered.

4. Option 4 will allow you to seamlessly keep track of your yearly sales by entering specific sales amounts from month to month and once all amounts are entered a specially designed line chart will appear.